The Zuiderzee Museum in Enkhuizen vividly brings to life the stories of the people who once lived along the shores of the Zuiderzee. Visitors can immerse themselves in the sights, sounds, and scents of everyday life before the Afsluitdijk transformed the inland sea into the IJsselmeer in 1932. The museum's outdoor section showcases historic buildings, while the indoor museum features thematic exhibitions focusing on the region's history, crafts, and community life. Following the museum visit, the tour continues with a walk to the Koepoort in Middelburg, a Baroque city gate built in 1735. As the last remaining gate of the original eight, it offers a picturesque starting point for a stroll along the historic stronghold. We return to the ship for dinner.

Day 4 – Thursday, April 9: Nijmegen

We'll start the day with a trip to the Hanseatic city Nijmegen, the oldest city in the Netherlands and the first to be recognized as such in Roman times. After lunch (not included – lunch in the city at traveler's expense), we will visit the local Belgium chocolate museum to see how the famous Belgium chocolate is made and enjoy some complimentary samples. We continue to the Flemish city of Ghent and take a walking tour of the old town established in the Middle Ages. We'll be impressed by the city's main sights: St. Bavo's cathedral, the ancient buildings dating back to the 12th to 17th centuries along the canals, and the town hall. We return to the ship for dinner.

This morning, we enjoy an oasis of peace in God's beautiful creation on this former country estate covering 20 acres of magnificent trees, beautiful gardens, and walking paths. Linger in their cozy tea room "De Uithoek" (The Far Corner) to enjoy a spot of tea on their shady terrace.
